DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1, 3-10 and 12-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

3. The language "unimodal" presents new matter. The affidavit is acknowledged and understood. While the affidavit shows some of the polymers used in the examples are unimodal there is no support for the claim limitation. There is nothing of record that supports this as a claim limitation.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1, 3-10 and 12-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dillon et al. US 6,277,919.

6. The rejection set forth under 35 USC 103 in the paper mailed 2/7/07 is deemed proper and is herein repeated. The amended claims, affidavit and remarks filed in support thereof have been considered but fail to place the claims in condition for allowance.

7. The alleged disadvantages with respect to multi-modal polymers when compared to unimodal polymers are acknowledged. There is no showing of record that compares unimodal polymers with multi-modal polymers. It is not understood what the "standard processing aid system" is in the example. It is unclear as to how this relates to the polymers of Dillon. Further, the showing is not commensurate in scope with the claims and does not fairly represent the closest prior art.

8. The art acknowledges the unimodal polymers and a mentioned disadvantage does not negate their obviousness. Applicants have failed to show that they are not tolerating the same disadvantage.
